rince Lobanoff refers to the restrictions t the entrance of Jews into Russian pritory, and claims that they are far from applying an absolute interdiction. "They are their sources," he says, "in consideraons of a kind essentially administrative and economic. The imperial government, aving already millions of Jewish subjects, and admits their congenors of foreign alegiance when they seem to present a guarantee that they will not be a charge and rasitic element in the state, but will ble, on the contrary, to be useful in nternal development of the country. It is because he had it in view to protect himself from an influx of a proletaria of established clearly the categories of Israelites of whom the entrance in our territories can be permitted."

Tobacco Monopolies.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 .- In a report to the Department of State Consul Hammond states that the Turkish government has farmed out, for a large sum of money, the monopoly of the tobacco trade in Turkey to an English company. The body of Mr. Hammond's report is devoted to the tobacco industry of Hungary, where the government takes entire control of the business of tobacco growing. Mr. Hammond says that while there was an increase in the production amounting to about 50 per cent. from 1883 to 1893, the increase has not continued for the past two years, showing that the production has probably reached a culminating point. Remarking upon the system, Mr. Mammond says: "The Hungarian government has complete control amounting to a control amount nounting to a government monopo tobacco. A private person cannot, for his own use, raise an ounce of tobacco but that it must be turned over to the vernment, the latter granting the privege of raising the same.

PEARY HAS ENOUGH

BAYS HE WILL NOT UNDERTAKE AN OTHER NORTH-POLE EXPEDITION.

Other Explorers, However, Including Meteorologist Baldwin, Are Determined to Try It Once More.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 23 .- No new matter has developed to-day with reference to the Peary expedition. All the members will go from here by the steamer Sylvia, leaving Wednesday, reaching New York Monday. They are engaged to-day in packing specimens, which will be transferred to the Sylvia on her arrival from Pilley's island, where she is now loading ore.

In an interview to-day Lieutenant Peary says that he will not undertake further arctic work. He denies that any of the bones of General Greely's party were found at Cape Sabine, but the officers, engineer, fireman and sailors of the Kite contradict his statement. The matter is widely dis-

Another Expedition Proposed. CHICAGO, Sept. 23 .- Mr. E. B. Baldwin who, as the meteorollgist from the Weather Bureau, accompanied the Peary expedition in 1893, and who was one of the three explorers to reach the farthest point made in 1894, was seen by a reporter to-night and while reluctant to discuss the matter of the failure of the second expedition to add anything of great importance to the geography of the north, stated that the cause of the failure was doubtless due to the explorers being unable to find the cache of provisions left at the farthest point reached last year. He said: "The long journey of one thousand miles or more with very insufficient supplies simply illustrates and emphasizes what great results might have been what great results might have hat great results might have been hieved by a properly organized and abuntily provisioned expedition with no perfluous persons among the members."

"Then there were superfluous members in Peary's party?" was asked.

"Oh, I made a general statement that will apply to any expedition. None but workers should be allowed—unless a superabundance of supplies is first provided. Results would then be far different. I wish to make another trip and shall relax no efforts to accomplish that purpose. Efforts are now being made to organize an expedition and should Dr. Nansen or Jackson lead us in the race to the north noise. son lead us in the race to the north pole, why the south pole will yet remain to be reached and greater problems than either shall remain for solution."

"What expedition do you expect to ac-company?" was asked.
"The matter is now under advisement. I simply to state that four or five men who went with Lieutenant Peary in 1894 are determined to go again. Our knowledge now of the polar regions has so deprived them of their terrors, and success is so certain, with proper manage-ment in these days of cheap provisions, ingenuity and scientific enthusiasm that so long as the explorers themselves are not iscouraged the world at large need not

STRIKE AT GAS CITY.

Unskilled Union Men at American Window-Glass Plant Walk Out.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

GAS CITY, Ind., Sept. 23 .- A strike is on at the American Window-glass Company's big plant here, which promises to bring trouble into the camp of the Knights of Labor. During the past summer the unskilled labor in the window-g'ass factories of the State was organized into District No. 12, Knights of Labor, an organization WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.-There was tories in the East. At the opening of the which is of long standing in the glass facfactory fires last week District 12 presented the manufacturers a scale of wages to be signed, which contemplated a raise of about 10. per cent. above last year's wages. The manufacturers refused to rec gnize the new union or to sign the scale, and the men walked out. The strikers exbranch of Knights of Labor, and onsists of the skilled workmen, to strike also in their support, but the headquarters at Pittsburg failed to authorize this. President Simon Burns, on being wired the circumstances and asked for instructions wired back the following reply: "You know what I would do," and the skilled workcontinued at work. The present state of affairs now ap-ears to be that one branch of the K. of a fails to recognize another regularly organized branch of the same order. President Leighton Burns, of District 12, as arrived from Pittsburg, and he deounces the glass-workers' union in very strong terms. He promised to take the natter up with General Master Workman Sovereign and compet the glass-workers' union to assist or else disrupt the Knights of Labor as an organization. Executive Officer McGuire, of the K. of L., is at Anderson, and President Mould will turn the whole matter over to him. President Mould says that he has the entire indorsement of the General Assembly, Knights of Labor, and that the Windowglass Workers' Union will be compelled to ssist if they remain a part of the Knights

DR. T. A. COX WILL FIGHT. Claims He Has Been Slandered in the Myers Case.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ELWOOD, Ind., Sept. 23 .- Dr. Thomas A. Cox, whose sudden reappearance here Saturday night threw the city into a flutter of excitement, in an interview this morning

"I am here to answer to all charges against me, and propose to fight and will demand a full and complete retaliation of every newspaper which has published any personal attacks on me or the character of my wife. I propose to make some one climb a tree in this matter and have run all I am going to. I will now proceed to make some one else run. I left the city as I did to escape a long imprisonment, which knew would be fatal to me. I had no other reason for leaving. No word has been received from Hancock county as to the taken by the officials of that county relative to the matter, and Elwood officers will take no action except on demand of the Hancock county officers. It is understood that Deputy Sheriff Dean has the old warrants in his possession which were issued by Gordon, of the Foresters of this city. Dr. Cox has gained in flesh and health since he left the city. The mystery sur-rounding the disappearance of Thomas Myers remains as dense as ever, and no new evidence either for or against the alleged death and burial has come to light.

The general belief is that young Myers is alive, but it goes no further than belief, as no one about here has seen or heard from him since the date of his alleged

UNDER HER THUMB.

Cooper's Second Wife Took Care that the Old Man Provided for Her.

special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENSBURG, Ind., Sept. 23 .- Frank Parker, a relative of James Cooper, was the first witness in the Cooper will case. He saw James Cooper and Jennie Perry in a buggy on the banks of Blue river during the lifetime of the first wife of Cooper. Squire Van Pelt had resided in Shelby county for seventy-four years and had business transactions with James Cooper a short time before his death: He said Cooper had unbounded confidence in his son William, and allowed him to sign his name to checks and to other valuable papers. Cooper gave his bank book to his son and the son used it in settling his affairs. Thomas Stoughton was well acquainted with James Cooper, who was in poor health when he married his last wife. Cooper was suffering with kidney disease and had double hiccoughs about the time e made his will. Martin Parker was the most important witness examined. He lived on an adjoin-ing farm to Cooper. He called one day at the residence of James Cooper and found him and Jennie Perry away. They had gone to the old settlers' meeting and did not return home until 10 o'clock at night He found the first wife of Cooper locked in her room upstairs and calling for water. On the morning Cooper made his will, the witness said he had smothering spells and his breathing was short and quick. The witness had a conversation with the second wife of Cooper and she said she wanted her husband to make a will as he had agreed to provide for her and provide well; that if he died without making a will she would only have a "dower" in-terest in his estate, but if he made a will he would have a "fee simple" interest She was anxious that some one should tell aim of his condition so he could make a will. The evidence tended to show that the will was practically that of Jennie Cooper and not that of James Cooper, the testa-

Carter, who wrote the will. Jessie Shem saw Jennie Perry and James Cooper together at the Shelby county fair and also saw them at a festival at Bendal. Mrs. Opdegraf visited the Coopers frequently and saw the first wife after she died. She and saw the first wife after she died. She died in an upstairs room with nothing nice in it. The other rooms were well furnished, having fine carpets on the floor. After Jennie Perry came to live in the Cooper family he bought a piano. The witness heard Jennie Perry playing on it. She took music lessons of Laura Ross and Miss Williams during the lifetime of the first wife of Cooper first wife of Cooper.

THE CUT-THROAT TRUST. Willing Now to Furnish Natural Gas at Half Rates.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., Sept. 23 .- The Logansport and Wabash Valley Gas Company, which owns the natural-gas systems at mill. It then attacked the business part of Peru, Logansport, Decatur and this city, town, destroying the wheat elevator, the to-day published a notice that after Oct. gas would be furnished to consumers at one-half the rates that are being charged and have prevailed for the last seven years. The company also reduces its rates to manufacturers from 5 cents to 3 cents per thousand feet and makes the rates on monthly and annual contracts the same. Previous to the acquisition of this property of the Logansport and Wabash Valley company the Wabash Natural-gas Company advanced the rate from 5 cents to 7½ cents per thousand. Then the organization of the Wabash Fuel Company y Wabash citizens began, and the fuel company will be ready to supply gas brough its independent line Nov. 1, hence the enormous cut. The fuel company has several hundred three-year contracts, and the Wabash Valley company claims that the cut is made in self-defense.

THE ROBY ARGUMENT.

Judge Shirley Takes the wase Under Advisement Till Saturday.

pecial to the Indianapolis Journal. HAMMOND, Ind., Sept. 23 .- The Roby injunction case was called up before special Judge Shirley in the Circuit Court at Crown Point to-day. After hearing the argument of the counsel Judge Shirley took the case under advisement and will render his decision next Saturday. Ex-Judge E. C. Field and J. B. Peterson appeared for the dehold against them. This was answered by Mr. Kopelke, who argued that the injunction was against the track. Mr. Ketcham spent very little time in speaking on the Dog Nero Stopped a Runaway Horse. shelbyville Republican. Dan Deprez's big yellow dog, Nero, the hero of the town, at least he is the people who saw him stop a runaway horse this morning on South Harrison street. It happened in this way: Merritt Brown is a farmer who lives east of town. This morning he brought some garden truck to town and when he went into O. E. Lewis's store he left his horse standing in the street. A bicycle passed, at which the horse scared, whirled around and started north on Harrison street in a dead run. Nero was with Mr. Deprez's wagon a little south of the postoffice. As Mr. Brown's horse approached Nero made a dash for the middle of the street and when the horse reached him he jumped for his head. He kept repeating this until horse commenced to jerk backward to avoid the dog. A great crowd quickly collected and finally a man went to the aid of the dog, but before he reached them the horse had almost stopped and was easily caught. Every body in the crowd patted Nero on the head and the manner in which he wagged his tail showed how well Insane Woman Leaped from a Train. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 23 .- Sheriff Huffman, of Wells county, started to this city this morning with Mrs. Eliza Earnart, of Markelville, for the purpose of placing her in the Eastern Indiana Hospital for the Insane, west of the city. Near Haley's Station she broke away from him and the woman who had accompanied her, rushed to the platform and jumped from the train, which was moving at the rate of twenty miles an hour. Just at that time the train was passing over some trestle work, and through this she fell, a distance of twenty-five feet. The train was stopped, and several people rushed to the place where she fell and expected to find her dead, and were much surprised when she arose to her feet and started up the embankment, spparently unhurt.

Jubilee Singer Gets Off Easily,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TIPTON, Ind., Sept. 23.-William Dickson, the colored man, who shot and permanently crippled police officer Evans in this city, last spring, was brought before judge Kirkpatrick this morning, when he leaded guilty, and the judge sentenced him to six months in jail, he to have credit for the five months that he was con-fined awaiting trial. Dickson was a member of the Georgia Jubilee Singers, sent out by the Slayton Luceum Club, of Chiago. The verdict gives general satisfacblame. The trouble grew out of insulting remarks made by some rowdies in the presence of the female members of the ompany, and the shot that the officer received was intended for another man.

Cripple Kemp Sentenced. special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Sept. 23 .- The case of Frank Kemp, the legless young man, who killed his father at Galveston, was dishis attorneys and the prosecuting attorney. The indictment was reduced to manslaughter and a plea of guilty was entered. Judge Cleary sentenced Kemp to three years in the Prison North. Kemp killed his father, Daniel Kemp, an old and prominent citizen of Jackson township, at noon on Sept. 9. The two men quarreled over the repair of a well, and the father was shot while approaching the son, as the latter believed, to strike him. There were no witnesses to the shooting, and the son's own testimony would have been all the State could have relied on for a conviction.

Captain Baldwin and Wife in Jail. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WARSAW, Ind., Sept. 23.-Last night D. C. Stoll, a Pennsylvania railroad detective, arrived here from Michigan City, having in custody Capt. Seth Baldwin and wife, both of whom were placed in the county jail. A few weeks ago a trunk containing jewelry and diamonds to the value of several thousand dollars was stolen from a Nickelplate baggage car in this city, and the trunk was found in the possession of Capt. and Mrs. Baldwin at Michigan City. During the summer season Captain Baldwin has charge of the line of steamboats running between this city and Winona Park. Himself and wife a few days ago returned to their home at Michigan City to spend

American Tin-Plate Works Will Run. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ELWOOD, Ind., Sept. 23 .- The threatmed close-down of all the tin-plate factories in the country for an indefinite time as soon as the supply of billets on hands is exhausted does not apply to the American tin-plate plant here. It has enough steel billets contracted for at the old price to run it until the new steel mills, which the company is going to erect to manufacture their own steel billets, is in operation, and this insures a steady run for this plant, which is the largest in the Christian Minister Arrested. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FRANKFORT, Ind., Sept. 23 .- Rev. Canter, a Christian minister, was arrested here yesterday charged with assaulting the twelve-year-old daughter of A. Minor, a carriage painter. The public takes little tock in the charge as the complainant alleges the crime to have been con in 1894. The accused was a near neighbor of the Minors and the families have been at outs for some weeks. Rev. Canter has been released on a bond, and it is believed will have no trouble proving his inno-

CALLED TO WASHINGTON

Dr. Talmage Invited to Preach for Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.-The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of this city to-night voted to extend a call to Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage to be co-pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland are members of the congregation. The question of com-pensation was postponed for future consid-eration. It will be understood, if Dr. Talnage accepts the call, that it shall not atterfere with his Christian Endeavor and her work. Dr. Allen, who is Dr. Sunderd's assistant pastor now, will retire if At Wichita, the fall was fifty degrees and the weather is the coldest for September ever recorded there. Material injury to crops will follow if the cold spell continues. At Ardmore, I. T., a severe thunderstorm

No Trace of the Langtry Jewels. LONDON, Sept. 23 .- Mrs. Langtry was interviewed to-day on the subject of the loss of her box of jewels from the Sloane-street branch of the Union Bank, London, last week, by means of a forged order. She said that she had obtained no further light on the question as to the identity of the recipient of the box. Mrs. Langtry said that there was no suspicion against any of her servants, but that the scheme must have been worked by somebody who was cognizant of her affairs, for never before was there so much of her jewelry at the bank. Her maid had suggested that she take the box with her to Baden Baden, but she had thought it safer to leave it in the custody of the bank. Mrs. Langtry said that she thought it was curious that the people at the bank were not aware that she was on the continent instead of in London at the time.

LUCK OF A PLUNGER. Riley Grannan, a Kentuckian, Wins $250,000 in Three Weeks.

New York World. Monday's Local Observations.

Bar. Ther. R. H. Wind. W. Mr. Prec. hesitates is lost. A young man who has at Toledo to-night and bought a suit of because he hesitated puts no belief in the proverb. When Riley Grannan, the youngplunger on the American turf, came to New York about three weeks ago he had a comfortable bank account of $200,000 and had made up his mind to retire. He hesitated and when the gates opened for the fall racing at Sheepshead Bay he was one of the first to join in the swirl in the betting ring. Money came to him in a torrent. His most invariably correct. It seemed as though he couldn't lose. Soon he had a second $100,000 and again he decided to retire. But again he hesitated. The afternoon that Henry of Navarre beat Domino and Rey El Santa Anita in the special sweepstakes arranged for them Grannan went to the track with starter James Rowe. Grannan announced his determination never to bet another cent on a "That's enough to keep me the rest of my life," he said to Rowe, "and I'm done with the whole game." "Nonsense," said the starter, "the minute you get into the betting ring, Grannan, you'll be at it harder than ever." Rowe was right, for three hours later Grannon was putting up his money right and left on Henry of Navarre to beat Domino. He made one bet of $10,000 against $12,000 with old Joe Ullman, the veteran Western bookmaker, and dared him to ake another $10,000. Ullman weakened and Grannan went down the line, betting with bookmaker who would take his mon $60,000, another reward for postponing He added $50,000 more Saturday, his total winnings for the meeting, which lasted less than three weeks, being more than

GOBBLED THE CANAL

HUGE SCHEME ENGINEERED BY THE NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD.

Has Secured Control of All the Boats on the Erie Canal and Killed Off All Scalpers.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 23 .- The Express to-morrow will publish a three-column

article, declaring that the New York Central & Hudson River railroad has secured control of practically all the tonnage that floats upon the Erie canal and will, there-Dr. Talmage accepts at the end of the fore, be in a position to contro! all freight year. It is understood that Dr. Talmage rates on the sanal The scheme whereher rates on the sanal. The scheme whereby the Central road has gained control of the canal tonnage is said to have been conceived more than a year ago. It was set in operation, it is claimed, on the first day that the canal opened last spring. On that day boats were loaded at 2%c. On the day following the railroads cut the price to 2 cents from Buffalo to New York. This necessitated the boatmen taking loads at 11/2c or 1%c or lower. So shrewdly had the New York Central done its work, that until a few days ago nothing could be seen in this but an attempt on the part of the roads to drive the boatmen to go out of business. The scheme was a deeper one than that, however. The New York Central saw that it could do better than throw the canal out of business, even if it was possible for it to do so. There would always be a time of the year just after harvest when the elevators would not be able to hold all the grain for the railroads. Traffic has grown to such great extent that such times the railroads could not hope to be able to control it unless it the New York Central company conceived the plan of gaining control of all of the canal boats on the Erie, making itself a fast scalping company and forcing out all scalpers. This, it is claimed, is just what the New York Central has done. In doing it the company has been very careful not to show its hand. It has operated through three well-known Buffalo canal men and through them has gained control of 90 per cent. of all the boats on the Erie canal, not a boatman having come into the combine who has not assurances that the New York Central company is behind the scheme. Assurances of protection to boatmen who have mortgages on their boats held by scalpers have also been given. It is stated that every boatman who has come into the combine has signed an agreement to take no loads except such as are given from the office of the syndicate. If any boatman should take a load other than those assigend to him from the office of the syndicate he is subject to a fine of $100 for each load so taken. If the fine is not paid will be expelled from the syndicate and nied its protection and rates.

The plan on which the syndicate is being worked is said to be as follows: The agent of the New York Central railroad warrant the boatmen good rates for carrying grain and in return the boatmen carry only sucl oads as are assigned to them by the i nmittee of the New York Central Rafroad Company, who dictate to the shippers what they shall pay for the transportation of their grain from Buffalo to New York. In this way they will be able to make their own rates to shippers, secure the shaving which has been going into the hands of scalpers in the past, and at the same time do away with the fight between the canal and the railroad. The combine will do all the scalping hereafter and the individual heretofore known as the scalper will be a The final killing of the scalpers came yes-terday when the syndicate drew up a con-tract and presented it to the Scalpers' Association to be signed. This contract recognizes the scalpers only as shippers and not as scalpers in the old sense of the term. The only grace allowed the shippers was a clause which provided that they would be given a notice of five days of any change in freight rates. The scalpers conceded everything demanded in the contract and only held off from signing it that they might plead for an extension of notice time This question was considered at a meeting of the syndicate boatmen to-night and referred to the freight committee. At this neeting also it was said the freight committee would advance rates either every five days or ten days until the close of the season from now on until the maximum rate desired was reached. Before the season is over the boatmen would be given rates that will pay those in the syndicate for lying idle all season.

Mother and Babe Drowned.

ALBION., Neb., Sept. 23.-A distressing accident, resulting in two deaths, occurred at Bradish, six miles east of this place. Bert Holton, wife and child were driving into the village in a road cart. When near the elevator they were obliged to cross a canyon, and this was filled with water to a depth of five feet. In crossing the cart was overturned and the three occupants were thrown into the water. The rain and darkness caused them to be separated, and when the man, almost exhausted, was rescued by Mr. Schavland the wife and baby were not to be found. The body of the child was found during the night, but that of the woman was not recovered until the Dangerous Use of Strong Purgatives.

Pills and purgatives which act quickly upon the bowels, irritate and destroy the mucous linings of the stomach and bowels. A continued use of such remedies inflames the stomach and bowels. The use of the genuine imported Carlsbad Sprudel Salt is highly recommended because its action is due solely to its solvent and stimulating properties, without irritating the stomach. Best results are obtained when out-door exercise can be had. Obtain the genuine imported article only.
